UNITED NEW AUBURN ASSOCIATION
AGENDA
July 29, 2014
6:00 p.m. at Rolly's Diner
Guest Speaker: Colonel Dan Leclair

Colonel Dan Leclair, a former Maine Wing Commander of the 077th Composite Squadron at the Auburn/Lewiston Airport, a graduate of Edward Little High School, and a former resident of New Auburn, is now the commander of the Civil Air Patrol's nine-state northeast region. This area encompasses the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

As the US Air Force Auxiliary, the Civil Air Patrol mentors cadets, promotes aerospace education, and engages in emergency services such as search and rescue and disaster relief.

Col. Leclair has served in numerous capacities during this time in both active military and as a volunteer of the US Air Force Auxiliary. He enlisted in 1972 and completed his training at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas. He received training in Crypographics systems and later served as an instructor for three years.

In 1978, Leclair was assigned to the White House in Washington, DC, with the White House communications agency as a watch officer in the White House Presidential Communications Center.

Leclair has traveled with three presidents on over 500 presidential missions. He retired from the Air Force in 1992 and returned to Maine in 2000.

He is a 1000 hour search and rescue and counter drug mission pilot and an incident commander. He has managed national programs such as Wreaths Across America as the project officer, and as the director of the National Flight Academy, which is held here in Maine.

Leclair is a consulting engineer and director for a national security firm with offices in 70 cities in the United States. He is married to Pamela (Rowe). Their home is in Minot, Maine.

Remember, all Auburn residents are welcome!
