IN COUNCIL REGULAR MEETING MAY 4, 2020 VOL. 36 PAGE 33

Councilor Gerry – nothing at this time.

Councilor Boss – asked if there are there any resources on the recovery page that will be helpful to businesses, adding that there are creative ways to stay profitable and what can we do for those that re not adapting and need to do so in order to stay afloat.

Councilor Carrier – asked about the issue on Riverside Drive, and will it be added to a future workshop as an agenda item.

XXXIII. Open Session – No one from the public spoke, however the following email comment was sent via email.

Mayor Levesque:

I am very disappointed by your letter to Governor Mills, which includes the following line:

"I am writing today on behalf of the City of Auburn to urge you to lift the Stay Safe at Home order no later than May 4."

Decisions about how and when to modify Maine's social distancing policies should be made based on the best available data and epidemiological and public health principles, and in consultation with appropriate experts, including public health officials. Your letter doesn't even marginally mention the science or data behind the restrictions or the well-recognized criteria for relaxing restrictions. Instead, you praise Auburn's 'inspired leadership' and base your request on your personal opinion about the city's mood.

Economic issues are important, but data from previous pandemics shows that the most robust economic recoveries occurred in those places where restrictions were started early, were strong, and were not discontinued prematurely. One does not remove one's parachute just because the rate of descent has slowed.

You are free to express a personal opinion, but as Mayor you are not entitled to claim that your personal opinion represents the City of Auburn. I cannot find any evidence that the City Council directed you to make this request on behalf of the City. Although some Auburn residents may feel as you do, my friends, acquaintances, and I most certainly do not. I am appalled that you have taken it upon yourself to speak for us without consulting us.

As a physician, a member of a high risk group, and based on my training and experience in preparing for infectious disease outbreaks, I disagree quite strongly with your request - but it would never occur to me to send a letter to Governor Mills advocating my position and claiming it was on behalf of the City of Auburn or a local medical center.

I ask you to publicly state that your letter expressed your PERSONAL request, and was not 'on behalf of the City of Auburn'.

I am very, very unhappy about this.

06/15/20 CITY COUNCIL MEETING

The following Public Comments were submitted to the comments@auburnmaine.gov email as of 12:00PM on 6/15/2020:

From: Sarah Horton, address unknown

I do not support the resolve to declare all businesses as essential. This is clearly a move to make it more difficult to shut down in the event of the inevitable second wave of Covid-19. We as a community are not adhering to policies regarding masks and social distancing, as evidenced by the widespread unenforced mask policies and the resuming of social interactions without proper precautions. If you make this declaration, you are displaying a blatant disregard for the vulnerable populations in our community. As a small business owner, this situation has hit me particularly hard, with incredibly limited resources being offered by local, state and national government. Regardless, I value the health and well being of my fellow Auburn citizens above profits. Do the right thing, vote against this measure.

From: Jane Costlow, 104 Fourth Street

I sent this message to Councillors Gerry, Walker and Boss, but wanted to post it here as well: I want to thank Ms. Gerry for reaching on the Next Door list and asking about what Auburn residents think about the proposal to declare all businesses essential, as a way to get them opened more quickly. I don't know all the details, but I did want to share a few thoughts.

I would feel better about the proposal if I thought my Auburn and Lewiston neighbors were observing social distancing and wearing masks when they are in stores. But it's pretty obvious to anyone who goes to a place of business these days that lots of people are not observing these rules/guidelines. In the past few days I've been at Hannaford in Auburn, Lowe's, and Paris Farmers' Union. Lowe's seems to be working the hardest to remind people that they should wear masks, and all the employees were wearing them. Still, there were a small number of people there without masks. The situation is worse at Hannaford (employees all have masks, but the times I've been recently I'd say between 1/3 and 1/2 are not wearing masks). At Paris Farmers Union none of the employees had masks on.

This lack of adherence to what we know will keep people safe really concerns me - not just for myself, but for others in the community, particularly those who are older and at risk. I think it's relevant to your discussion of whether or not to label all businesses "essential" because if we as a community want to do that, we ALSO ought to be following the rules - and I'm very skeptical that people will do that.

The news from various states is that there are starting to be major spikes in hospitalizations as states have opened up. I understand that there are real economic impacts for keeping businesses closed. I feel as though I'm doing my part by wearing a mask and practicing social distancing when I go to local businesses. But there are too many people who are NOT doing so for me to think it would be a good idea to open more businesses.

From: Alaina Patterson, Paul Street

Good morning,

As a resident of Ward 5, I do not support Resolve 10-06152020. While I understand the desire to open and protect our small and local businesses from additional economic losses, I do not believe the data supports a wide reopening at this time, nor do I believe that enough of our population - Auburn and statewide - are acting within their full power to protect each other from transmitting COVID-19 by wearing masks and maintaining physical distancing between individuals. I believe that a full reopening at this time would cause a sharp increase in cases in our zip code, and directly result in additional deaths. I do not believe additional deaths are a consequence we as a society can support in the name of protecting our economy.

Please vote NO on Resolve 10-06152020.

From: Jeremiah and Sara Bartlett, 107 Shepley Street

Good Evening,

Attached is a letter from two Auburn residents: Jeremiah Bartlett, as well as myself, Sara Bartlett) regarding the pending discussion and vote on Resolve 10-06152020, "Resolution declaring all businesses in the City of Auburn essential and calling on the Governor of the State of Maine to open all businesses."

Thank you for the opportunity to enter this as a comment into the public record. We hope you use it as part of your consideration of this resolve.

Letter follows:

REV. SARA AND JEREMIAH BARTLETT

June 14, 2020

Mayor Levesque and Members of the Auburn City Council
Auburn Hall
60 Court Street
Auburn, Maine 04210

Dear Mayor Levesque and Members of the City Council,

We have greatly appreciated the City of Auburn's focus and attention to challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic. Despite the losses in revenue and complications from risk of infection, many services continue, benefitting residents and businesses. Seeing trash pickup continue, classroom Zoom meetings for our youngest son, and street construction proceed in our neighborhood demonstrates beyond a reasonable doubt that life goes on.

In addition, our family has had concerns about the detail of data provided to Mainers regarding where and how the spread of COVID-19 has taken place in our state. We have had so much concern that our oldest son, Josh has taken great pains to craft a county by county Google Sheets document including total cases, active cases, and positive test rates for about a month now, and updates it on a daily basis. We have shared this information on social media to make it widely available for anyone who wishes to view it. Further, Josh's concerns have risen to the point where he directly contacted the Governor's Office to express our concerns in detail.

The impact of this pandemic has been significant on our family. Jeremiah's engineering group at the City of Portland has lost almost 40% of its staff since the beginning of the year due to budget cuts, and Sara has faced the challenge of having a church operate remotely. She is also on the Board of the Maine Conference of the United Church of Christ, so has worked on these challenges as much or more than many church pastors. Each of us knows people who have passed due to the disease, including a professional colleague of Jeremiah's.

We have shifted much more of our spending to local businesses than normal to help them in their efforts to keep functioning, including Hannaford, Taber's, Blackie's, Heidi's, Heathco's, Side by Each, the Pinky D's Poutine Factory and Lamey-Wellehan, not to mention numerous businesses in Lewiston. Jeremiah has spent a significant portion of his job over the past month working with other City staff and businesses in Portland to support outdoor dining and shopping, resulting in making a difference for over 100 small businesses in Maine's largest City. It is not an exaggeration to say that each day we strive to make choices that will help Maine businesses, and Auburn businesses specifically.

But all this being said, it is clear to us with the data available that this current situation is far from over, and moving too quickly to go back to business as usual brings with it great risk to the public in general and even more so to many of our more vulnerable populations, including the sick, the elderly, and people of color.

We have watched with great concern the rapid rise in COVID-positive rates in states that have reopened all types of businesses, including the Carolinas, Texas, Arizona, and others. As a result, despite significant declines in states hit hardest by the pandemic, such as New York and New Jersey, the level of active cases in the United States have not significantly declined, based on public data available as of today (June 14, 2020). The overall number of positive cases nationwide has plateaued at the largest amount on the planet.

But our greatest concerns are with the many assertions in the resolution itself, which appears riddled with inaccuracies and does not appear to have been based on discussions with key stakeholders.

In the past two weeks (as of today, June 14, 2020), the rate of active COVID cases in Androscoggin County have declined by four people, or a drop of three percent - hardly a notable change in case load. Yet the only metric the resolution appears to concern itself is the number of total deaths, as opposed to those who have experienced serious and potentially ongoing health issues due to this disease.

Sara, as previously mentioned, knows as well as anyone the challenges faced by worshippers in these times. But she has worked closely to familiarize herself with the guidance issued by one of the largest faith-based organizations in Maine, the Maine Council of Churches. In no way does this document appear to be based on discussions with this organization, which in has NOT advocated for a quick return to in-person worship.

The resolution also suggests hardship resulting from a two-week mandatory quarantine period if travel to and from New Hampshire is involved. Based on all available public information, this statement is outdated and inaccurate.

Further, this resolution is a slap in the face to the great majority of people who have expressed great concern in public with regards to the treatment of black people by law enforcement and other established organizations and done so safely. Sara personally attended an event and wore a mask the entire time, getting no more than six feet away from anyone outside of her household, despite the fact that the event was outdoors. It is highly unlikely these outdoor events will pose anywhere near as much a risk as upcoming national political rallies to be held indoors. And again, it does not appear that this resolution was based on any dialogue from organizations facilitating these events.

But lastly, and most significantly this document appears mostly concerned with the business climate in our area. Surely, the authors of the document must have had a dialogue with key stakeholders in the area? Yet, a quick check-in with Shanna Cox, President and CEO of the L-A Metro Chamber confirmed that absolutely no discussion took place with the largest consortium of businesses in the region.

As such, we can only draw the conclusion that this document was based on input from a precious few individuals wishing to impose their bottom-line decisions on literal matters of life and death. And we can only state this with the greatest of sadness and disappointment. Auburn can and should do better.

We want to close this letter with a parable familiar to those in the Christian and Muslim communities, in Luke 15: 3-7 and Matthew 25: 39-40 in the New Testament (known as Injil to Muslims). The story itself is short and simple: a shepherd leaves the 99 sheep together in the flock to seek and rescue the one lost sheep. We urge the Council to consider all of those in Auburn in these trying times, and not leave anyone behind.

Sincerely yours,

The Reverend Sara E. Bartlett

Auburn City Council,

I have read the statement drafted to call on Governor Mills to declare all Auburn businesses "essential." While I don't agree with everything Governor Mills has done, I feel your decision to attempt a circumvention of the CDC and Mills' guidelines for reopening is reckless and I'll informed.

I studied Genetics- specifically Epidemiology at the University of Georgia, had a job offer for the CDC in Atlanta, and have many friends and former colleagues that still work for the Atlanta CDC. My stance is not based on media fluff or baseless opinions.

I feel that to declare ALL Auburn businesses while not addressing the public health education of our citizens is not the right path. A slower tiered opening with an emphasis on distancing and mask wearing would be the better approach but it seems people are only looking at this in the binary. Either full open or full closed. Please, I implore you to find an educated and informed path as opposed to relenting to those who either don't understand or are unwilling to educate themselves.

Please, consult educated experts. Make contact with a representative of the Maine CDC and ask for their guidance. Being informed and consulting experts will go a long way with your constituents.

I will say that if this pushes through without evidence that the city council has "done their homework," that will inform Auburn citizens that you value the wants of the few over the needs of the many and you value a false sense of economic security over public health.

And I say false sense, because if this comes back for a second round, your current proposal feeds into that scenario far more than an educated/tiered reopening.

I hope you heed my words. Be safe and well.

From: Samantha Sainte Marie, West Auburn Road

Hello,

I am a resident of West Auburn Road in Auburn and I oppose the resolution 10-06152020

Opening up all of our community and returning to life as "normal" is very unsafe for our community members as the cases of COVID-19 continue to increase. This pandemic has not stopped and continues to infect our community, state, country, and world. Despite our governor's efforts to protect Mainers, many residents, both locally and state wide, continue to fight restrictions and act apathetically. As much as I would love to support our local businesses, visit our parks and beaches, and spend time with neighbors, this is not a time to let our guard down.

As a mother to a toddler, a wife of a physician, a volunteer with the Greater Androscoggin Humane Society, a Licensed Clinical Professional Counselor, and an individual that is immunocompromised, I have to rely on the health and behaviors of those in my community to avoid illness. This disease could be fatal for me as it has been fatal for others with similar health problems. When our mayor and town council say they want to return as business as normal what it means to me is that my life doesn't matter. My son doesn't need a mother, my family left with a void.

I challenge our town council to find ways to encourage and enforce safer practices in our community before everything is allowed to open. I don't go out into public often since the pandemic started to affect our community, but when I do go out, I see very little compliance with safety precautions and recommendations in our community. Very few people are wearing masks, keeping safe distancing, or cleaning their hands after touching their face.

One of the bigger global struggles of this pandemic is that there has not been a unified response on how to handle it. I also oppose the resolve to allow individuals towns and counties to make decisions about procedures and policies for managing the pandemic. Division will only continue to breed the apathy in our communities.

Instead of putting our heads in the sand and trying to go back to life before, this is a time to be creative and encourage ingenuity about how to support businesses and the health of the community. It would be sad to see more local businesses close, however the death of a company is different than the death of individuals. Health needs to take priority over wealth.

From: Timothy Szal, 96 Tournament Drive

To the Auburn City Council:

I write to request that the City Council REJECT the resolution brought forth by Councilor Gerry that would label all Auburn businesses essential and that calls on the Governor to open all businesses.

This would seriously harm public health and cause a dramatic rise in Covid-19 cases in the area. From my (careful) travels into a few different parts of the state, I would say that the L/A area has been and still is one of the riskiest places to be right now. People do not take social distancing or mask-wearing seriously, and seem to think that the virus is either a hoax or has gone away (which it hasn't). At my annual physical a couple weeks ago, my Dr. said that her primary job since the initial shutdown has been educating her patients on the seriousness of this disease.

I agree that the economic pain has been unimaginable, and that we want businesses to reopen. HOWEVER, the City Council must focus on promoting good public health FIRST, so that we can reopen safely. Masks should be worn in all businesses by all people, and social distancing and occupancy requirements must be observed and enforced. The City Council should also be helping businesses utilize outdoor spaces & streets to help in this regard. We need to have a plan FIRST, before we completely re-open. Declaring all businesses essential is not the smart way to go.

Finally, please remember that even when re-open, this virus is STILL HERE. It will take a vaccine to get us back to "normal".

Thank you for your time & consideration.

From: Suzanne Turgeon, 99 Lake Auburn Avenue

Please allow business owners to use CDC guidelines and common sense to open their businesses. I'm in favor of monitoring local businesses to make sure they are following the guidelines.

From: Donna Kassa, address unknown

To City Council members,

Janet Mills is holding us hostage. She is determined to undermine our economy, and way of life, for her own agenda. For three months we have been isolated from friends, family, work, and play. Maine has had a fragile economy, and now she is dooming the state that she swore to "protect", to disaster. This quarantine has already exceeded its intent. Maine has not been, and is not, a so called hot spot. Those individuals (and their families) vulnerable to Covid-19 are responsible to protect themselves. It is not rational, nor necessary, to penalize the vast majority. I am tired of standing in line to buy groceries, and anything else for that matter (limiting the number inside needs to end). I want to go to the library, out to eat, walk on any beach, and invite my out of state friends to visit me without fanfare. Our businesses need our support without repercussions or fear. In fact, that applies to those choosing to support them as well.

I whole-heartedly support making all Auburn businesses essential. Every one is necessary to maintain a community that is economically healthy, I only wish that I could be there in person to be counted as a very concerned citizen who has had enough.

From: Sara Jane Boss, 82 Jennifer Drive

Greetings to the members of the Auburn City Council:

As a resident and taxpayer in Auburn, Androscoggin County, and the State of Maine, I am totally opposed to the proposed resolution that countermands the leadership and guidance of Maine's Governor and Center for Disease Control. As citizens of this country, we must stand together to protect the safety and well-being of every one of us. We must accept that our only alternative is facing the fact that this global pandemic, has now changed how we will all survive for many years to come.

Resolving that "the goal of "flattening the curve" and keeping Maine Healthcare System from being overwhelmed has long ago been met," is INCORRECT. We are still at the beginning stages of the pandemic according to epidemiologists and we must prepare for continuing to meet severe illness and death until a vaccine is available.

https://www.bluezones.com/2020/06/covid-19-straight-answers-from-top-epidemiologist-who-predicted-the-pandemic/?fbclid=IwAR1e00aIal__3QgyyzqWa6tUjzmzm99mZIW33w7lvV_xgxz-Soliw_cNQDQ

While all business owners and governments rightly depend on commerce for income and deem it essential to their success, in the face of the COVID-19 pandemic, we cannot turn away our primary responsibility to the health of our community as a whole. We must seek alternative ways to support local businesses deemed non-essential to the health of our area. Governor Mills in coordination with the Maine CDC, the federal CDC, and the White House Corona Task Force, have developed a four step Reopening Plan for the State of Maine. Our county's compliance with these directives will enable the opening of business in Androscoggin when it is deemed safe.

Thank you for your refusal to sign Item #2020-6-15 Resolution declaring all businesses in the City of Auburn essential and calling on the Governor of the State of Maine to open all businesses.

From: Peter Elias, MD, 564 Lake Street

As a trained physician with both expertise and experience in the field of infectious disease outbreaks, I object strenuously to the proposed resolution to declare all Auburn businesses to be essential and to open everything in defiance of State regulations.

First, it is absurd and dangerous to consider ALL Auburn businesses as essential to Auburn. It is absurd because Auburn businesses are extremely varied in size, nature, and impact on the lives of Auburn citizens. It is dangerous because, when the city designates ALL Auburn businesses as essential, it risks incurring the obligation to respond to requests for help from every Auburn business, regardless of its nature and size - including those struggling or failing because of poor management or a poor fit with the needs of Auburn citizens.

Second and more importantly, when and how to open businesses or social functions are a complicated set of decisions that should be based on data and a combination of public health and economic principles. If the City Council has data to support this resolution, they should release that data along with an assessment by qualified public health experts. Mandating a blanket opening in this manner, without providing supportive data and support from relevant experts, is irresponsible political grandstanding and undermines the credibility of the Auburn City Council as a deliberative body.

From: Grant Jewett, 22 Vivian St

I wanted to voice my opinion that this resolution should not pass and should not have been considered. I understand that businesses are hurting, but we can't pretend we are not still in the middle of a pandemic. Since June 12th Androscoggin County has had 32 new cases reported.

Opening up all business is just going to put us back at the beginning where everything had to be closed. This resolution seems very short-sighted.

From: Joan Macri, address not provided

I have watched with great concern as our city and county numbers have surged over the past 6 weeks. I even write to the Sun Journal in mid-May to ask them to research what was behind the spike. We have gone from fewer than a 100 to almost 500 county-wide.

I am in my 70's with asthma and very concerned. I trust the Maine CDC and do not support opening Auburn in defiance of scientific evidence.

I taught economics. I understand the impact of closures. But health is more important in the long term.

From: Richard Johnson, 34 Ryans Way

We have four adults living in our two family house. We all encourage the passage of the resolution to allow all small businesses in Auburn to open for business.

From: Jordan Tate, 14 Helen Street

Hello,

I am writing to express my support for the resolution declaring all businesses in the City of Auburn essential (Item #2020-6-15). For large corporations to be allowed to stay open because they implemented social distancing measures but not providing the same opportunity for small businesses is illogical, manipulative, and destructive to our local economy. If a business follows safety guidelines they should be able to reopen.

Furthermore, I have witnessed people of Androscoggin county leaving to go to restaurants and businesses in other counties that have started to open, defeating the purpose of keeping just a few counties closed! Not only does this increase the potential for viral transmission to other counties, it also hurts our economy by keeping us closed while allowing others to open where people are going to spend their money instead of businesses in their own communities.

I urge City Council to pass this resolve and allow our fellow Auburn residents to get back to work so they can support their families. Thank you for considering my public input.

From: Toby Haber and Mike Giasson, 76 Fern Street

We oppose the proposed resolution #2020-6-15. Not only does it not represent our views, but it is not sound legislation.

- * It is predicated on misusing- even abusing- the term "essential."
- * It supports business but did not consult the LA Metro Chamber.
- * It supports religious worship, but it does not reflect the advice of the Maine Council of Churches.
- * It does not reflect current data.

We do not feel the Governor's guidelines are "capricious"; rather, this resolution arbitrarily concludes we've waited long enough. The majority of public sentiment favors caution. We want the right to keep ourselves and our neighbors safe, and keep the local curve flat.

COVID-19 is not an abstract threat to us. We personally know friends who battled this awful virus, and some who have died from it.

Yes, it is an inconvenient truth. But our leaders must offer more than name-calling in this complex matter.

From: Daniel Boss, 82 Jennifer Dr

I am writing to oppose this resolution. I am opposed because I believe it is important not to second-guess the science behind the strategies for dealing with the pandemic that have been carefully worked out at the state level. The state is a more appropriate level of government to understand and impose calibrated restraints on re-opening because they are supported by science and expertise (CDC, DHS, epidemiologists) that municipalities do not have. We are making progress toward re-opening under these Maine-wide strategies, which are adjusted for local conditions, and should continue to follow this carefully planned guidance.

From: Scott A. Nussinow, 42 Candleberry Drive

Good afternoon.

I strongly oppose the Resolution as it has been initially presented to the Auburn City Council. Without reasonable safeguards, and more importantly, without appropriate oversight, this presents a dangerous health risk, and would not serve the good of the greater community.

Given that we do not know what downstream effects this virus may have on children, on pregnant women and their unborn children, and on the general population, such a wholesale 'opening' is an invitation for a healthcare nightmare.

That said, I am most understanding of (and sympathetic to) the needs of our community businesses. In light of that, I offer the following thoughts.

I would suggest a limited and phased opening - IF the business owners subscribe to and enforce - a best-practices protocol. This would include properly masked and gloved employees, proper and appropriate sanitization, and refusal to serve, house or otherwise accommodate customers who refuse to comply with these guidelines. Owners should be willing to post a (modest) bond, acknowledging their acceptance of these common-sense guidelines, and further, agree to pay fines and risk closure if such guidelines are not followed, abused or ignored.

This is not a complete list by any stretch - and is offered as a more balanced approach to harmonizing the needs of the city's economic health AND it's medical health. Rather than a populist position, this provides consideration to many, with minor inconvenience to few.

This would seem to be a fair and reasonable compromise for fair and reasonable constituents.
Thank you for your consideration.

From: Cynthia Grimm, 41 Elm Street

Dear Mayor and City Councillors,

I am writing the council to oppose the proposed Resolve 0-06152020. This is a dangerous action to take for a number of reasons.

- * It is predicated on misusing- even abusing- the term "essential."
- * It supports business interests, but did not consult local business organizations like the LA Metro Chamber.
- * It appears to support religious worship, but it does not reflect the advice of the Maine Council of Churches.
- * It does not reflect current data.
- * The city does not have the resources the state government has in testing and tracking infection rates and would not be able to create those resources without a significant investment that is not budgeted.

Re-opening too soon will completely undo the work we have all done to flatten the curve and minimize the number of people suffering and dying from this disease. I have personally had this virus, and I've lost 2 friends to it already. I know several people whose relatives are currently sick with the virus. This pandemic is still very active and still being transmitted. Relaxing restrictions based on the arbitrary idea that it's now safe to do so when there is absolutely no data to back that up is irresponsible and endangers the health of our community.

I urge you to stay the course, listen to the infectious disease experts, and assist businesses in altering their offerings to meet the current restrictions. When you have the power to protect lives and choose not to do so, you are culpable in any deaths that occur.

From: S/Edward Stanhope, 18 Tourmaline Lane

All are essential to the:

Owners

Workers

Customers

Tax collectors at every level are loosing out as well. ALL should be open as soon as possible.

Choosing winners and losers among them shouldn't be up to government but to the primary stakeholders.

Thank you for considering and passing the All Businesses are Essential Resolution.

From: Charlene McPhee, 72 Hillcrest Street

I fully endorse Toby and Michael Giasson's statement.

From: Susan Martin, 186 Davis Avenue

I would like to express concern about the resolve which I understand is on tonight's agenda. The link I was given to access the actual resolution did not work, but from what I understand it would open the city ahead of state recommendations.

I am a member of a high risk population. I am already concerned about the incidence of Covid in Androscoggin County. If Auburn becomes the only city or town open in the county, it will become a magnet for people from surrounding areas. While some may see that as a plus, it concerns me that it would be impossible to maintain social distancing in any way.

States such as Florida, Texas, and Arizona that opened early are now facing resurgence in the number of cases. Making decisions that go against CDC recommendations seems unnecessary and may open the city to litigation on several counts. If the council feels they must consider overriding state guidelines, they should use a process that allows for more input and is based on some type of data. Thank you.

From: Matt Jones, 32 Bradman St., Auburn

Dear Council,

The city council's resolution to declare all businesses in Auburn "essential" is misguided. I urge councilors not to support it. No one on the city council is an epidemiologist or has access to the most up-to-date information on testing in the city. The state is currently not yet testing enough people or tracing contacts adequately to contain spikes in cases. Further, a substantial number of Auburn citizens ignore recommendations to wear masks in public - perhaps the fundamental way to reduce transmission and allow the economy to re-open. Low compliance in this matter delays our ability to reopen the state. Finally, the case rates in Androscoggin county are steady or rising. Tambrands, owned by a well-funded, international company has an outbreak at their plant. If a company with this level of means cannot prevent the spread of cases, what should we expect of our small business?

XLIX. Open Session – No one from the public spoke, however one public comment came in via email from Nora Jarvis from the Auburn School Department.

From: Nora Jarvis, Auburn School Department

Hello,

I am a teacher in the Auburn School Department, and I'm writing regarding the plans being made to reopen schools.

I wanted to bring to your attention (if you haven't seen it already), this article that shared some shocking statistics about Maine's coronavirus cases and its impact on Black Mainers. Although Maine's Black population is tiny, 23% of those who tested positive for coronavirus are Black. This is deeply upsetting. Of course the reasons for this are multifaceted, but the fact remains that our district's Black kids and staff would be at a much higher risk if we were to return in person.

In an ideal world, we could start school in person. And I know how hard it would be on kids, parents, and us to continue remote learning. But we're talking about the lives of kids, their families, and staff. Reopening would disproportionately affect our Black students. Although Maine's cases are going down overall, it is clear that it is extremely dangerous for Black folks.

We need to ACT like Black Lives Matter and make policy decisions based on the fact that Black Lives Matter. Even one death is unacceptable.

Thank you, Nora Jarvis
